School-based Occupational Therapy:
Solutions for Multi-tiered Systems of Support
Speaker: Lou Ann Hintz, PhD, OTR

Current occupational therapy literature and federal legislation support school-based occupational therapy practitioners' participation in multi-tiered systems of support (MTSS). Yet many school-based occupational therapy practitioners struggle to implement. This interactive virtual webinar will illustrate precisely how school-based occupational therapy practitioners across the nation are having success with MTSS. Dr. Hintz will present recent research which describes teachers' experiences with occupational therapists who participate in MTSS. Lastly, solutions will be shared to support occupational therapists in advocating for their role in MTSS, outlining their role and scope, and establishing documentation for data collection. (2 CEUs)
